Water Out Raleigh in North Carolina Dries After House Fire

After a good 'ole North Carolina summer thunderstorm, Pettyjohn's Cleaning & Restoration/ Water Out Raleigh got a call from a distressed daughter taking care of her elderly mother's home. The home was struck by lightning, which traveled into the kitchen through the copper piping. After the Fire Department put out the house fire, Water Out Raleigh was left with a royal mess of sooty and soggy contents. They nestled their trailer in the lush green foliage of the backyard and began the drying process. Water Out Raleigh successfully dried the structure and salvageable contents of this home with the help of their Water Out trailer. The house had no electricity and a generator would not have been able to support the amount dehumidifiers and air movers needed to do the job.

Another job well done!

Water Out Coastal Dries Pediatric Office in Howell, NJ

Water Out Coastal came to the rescue after the staff at a pediatrician's office tried to do their own water restoration job. Five days after the initial flood the staff gave up and called their insurance company. The delay in time allowed the water to wick up the walls much higher than the initial loss. The carpeted offices had begun to smell as would be expected after staying wet for days. Before tearing out the walls and removing the carpets the insurance adjuster remembered a similar project that Water Out® had done for previous clients and called Water Out Coastal.

Doug Cressy reports on what happened next: "Since it was already Friday, we told the staff to finish up their schedule and the Water Out trailer was set up on Friday afternoon. The odors in the office were overpowering by Friday and our thermal imaging cameras told us that the walls were wet up to 24' high. Without removing any contents or replacing any carpets we were able to dry the office by late Sunday night. We packed up all of our equipment and left the office dry and odor free in time for office hours on Monday. There was no loss of office hours or repair or replacement of any kind."

An amazed office staff and a satisfied adjuster were glad Water Out Coastal came to the rescue. Once again the Water Out system proves its efficiency.

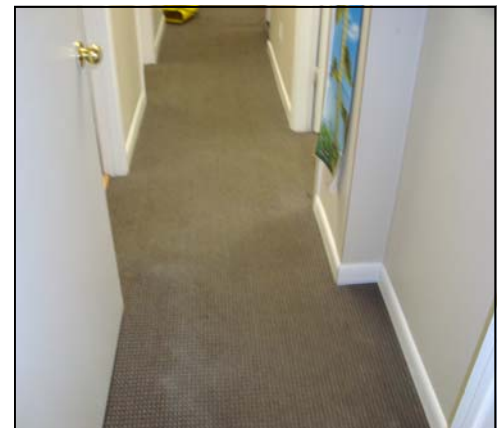

Great Job Guys!

"Success is not measured by what you accomplish but by the opposition you have encountered, and the courage with which you have maintained the struggle against overwhelming odds."
