Water Out Reno participants in Extreme Makeover: Home Edition in Las Vegas

Michelle Clanton, Director of Marketing for Pinnacle Emergency Management/ Water Out in Reno, Nevada submits report on a recent project they did with Extreme Makeover: Home Edition. Here is Michelle's report: "We are honored to have participated in two recent projects for ABC's Extreme Home Makeover utilizing our Water Out® services. As any Extreme Makeover: Home Edition show goes, the house is built by a small army of people in a very short time. This was no exception. The crew does not have time to sit around and wait for texture or paint to dry. To keep the construction progress moving with the least amount of down time, we used both of our Water Out® trailers to dry rooms right behind the texture installers. As soon as the texture crew was done with one room we through our ducts in and began drying. By the time they were done with the next room we were ready to move with them. Equally important, the Water Out® trailers helped heat up the crew on a few very cold Vegas nights.

We anticipate and look forward to volunteering for additional community outreach programs in the future."

The Water Out team in Whistler, Canada Saves the New Addition to the Local Hospital

Chris Macievich, Project Manager at Canstar Restorations sent us a story about a recent loss he handled with help of Frank Gomboc, Production Supervisor and Lead Water Out Flood Technician and Terri Gomboc, Contents and Cleaning Division Supervisor.

Canstar/ Water Out was called to inspect a 24,000 square foot commercial addition to a hospital. Upon arrival they found elevated moisture levels on the majority of the building materials and the presence of mold.

The crew met with a hygienist. This job had to be handled carefully because of the mold in such close proximity to the hospital and there was also a very tight construction timeline to follow so the new addition could open on time.

Water Out was recommended for the job so the materials could be brought down to industry dry standards quickly and the remediation and construction could be handled. Areas were dried, mold remediation was completed, post clearance sampling could begin and the construction crew followed behind to complete the project.
