Greetings!

Welcome Water Out's Newest Location

Water Out would like to welcome our newest member, Water Out of Portland, Oregon! They received their trailers in December and it looks like 2009 is off to a great start. Now Water Out has locations up and down the West Coast!

Felix Herrada, the owner of Hotel Renovators contacted Water Out several months ago about purchasing a trailer. Felix and his partner, Dante Perez have been in business for 10 years. Their primary business is working with hotel managers to update the facilities. They do everything from makeovers to cosmetic upgrades and complete renovations.

Felix was looking for another business opportunity and a way to capture the expanding new construction drying market in the Northwest. The guys at Water Out Portland jumped right in, they purchased three (3) Water Out trailers, three (3) Water Out Portables and a Water Out Big Dog!

Vic Schunk has been with Felix and Dante for over three years, he will be head of the Water Out division of the company. Although they are new to the industry, they are ready to go and are looking forward to an exciting 2009.

Water Out Portland had been in contact with a Water Out newsletter regular, Wally Stoneberg from Water Out South Puget Sound in Tacoma, Washington. These locations have great partnering opportunities. Over the past several weeks, the Northwest has seen some horrific weather conditions including winter storm warnings and flood watches and warnings.

We are sure to be hearing lots from all of our Water Out locations in the Northwest. To our existing Water Out members, reach out to Felix, Dante and Vic and welcome them aboard. To all of our customers in the Northwest, help is on the way!

Congratulations and good luck!!

Next weeks newsletter will feature another new location in Colorado.

Water Out of Vermont/GW Savage Corp dries local fire station

Tyler Savage of GW Savage Corp in South Burlington, Vermont sent in a photo of a job they completed at a local fire station. A pipe broke on the second floor flooding half of the building. Tyler Savage and his team immediately got to work. With their Water Out trailer, they were able to get the saturated structure dry in five days.

Great job guys!

Happy Drying!
